

It's your call: What now?

If you want to explore further what God may be calling you to, you need to:

- Pray: take time to pray through what you're thinking and feeling. Ask others to pray for you and with you.

- Talk: go and see your vicar or chaplain, who will be able to advise you. You may be encouraged to talk with a Diocesan Vocations Adviser or the DDO.

- Read: about what ordained ministry entails, and what the church looks for in an ordinand. You may be able to borrow books from your vicar or chaplain, or from the Vocations Adviser or DDO. Visit the CofE website with information about professional ministry (address on next page).
